FONTENELLE.—M. de Fontenelle took cognizance of nothing but mind. He had no vices, and consequently no battle to fight. He never laughed. One day I said to him, "M. de Fontenelle, did you ever laugh?" "No; I never executed an ah! ah! ah!" That was his idea of laughter. He only smiled at fine things, and never knew what it was to feel. He received no impressions from others. He never interrupted anybody, but waited attentively till his interlocutor had finished and was in no hurry about his reply. If you had brought an accusation against him he would have heard you all day without a word. From his birth up nothing had ever moved him. He resembled some very delicate little machine which will last forever, if placed in a corner where it cannot be rubbed or jostled. It is to his absolute apathy that his long life must be attributed. He spoke of both his parents with the same indifference. He used to say: "My father was a brute, but my mother had mind. She was a quietest, a sweet little woman, who used often say to me, 'My son, you will be damned,' but it did not trouble her." Fontenelle never raised his voice on any occasion whatever, and did not speak in a passion. He had no fear he should be obliged to do so. He disliked music, and did not care for painting or sculpture, except in their relations to imagination. He loved no one. People pressed him, but the word "love" he never pronounced. "Do you esteem me?" Mme. Geoffin once asked him. "I think you are very agreeable." "I think you are very agreeable." "But that if somebody should come and tell you that I had cut one of my children's throats should you believe him?" "I should reserve my judgment."

It was said of Diderot, that he often liked to converse with the most commonplace people because they would listen to him. He was like a man playing ball against a wall, who exclaimed each rebound, "That wall plays remarkably well!"

A correspondent of Forney once said, "I have just received a delightful letter from Voltaire. Let me read you my reply!"

Mme. Deffand, having made up her mind to reform, wrote: "As for rouge and President Henault, I shall not do them the honor of forsaking them." The President, on the other hand, said, just after his conversion, "I am in process of bringing all sins to light for the purpose of getting rid of them. We never knew how rich we are till we break up housekeeping!"

Mme. Geoffin claimed that having always been up with the spirit of her age, her years and her tastes had kept pace, like two perfectly matched horses.

Voltaire cared very little for the country; and it was wittily said of his Henriade, that there was just enough grass in it for the horses.

Talleau once had the audacity to say to the Assembly, "When we are alone with the people." So artificial had life become! One man met another and asked him, "Well, what do you think of all this?" "What do I think? I hardly dare be silent!"

Somebody, struck with the change that the last two years of the revolution had wrought in the political opinions of Alfieri, asked him to explain it. "Ah!" said he, "I know the great, but I did not know the little!"—Life of Mme. Swetchine.

GEN. GRANT ON GUNS, GREAT AND SMALL.—General Grant expresses the opinion that no European breech-loading small arm is superior to the converted Springfield musket, and none equal to it can be produced at less cost. In regard to heavy ordnance he is equally explicit in regard to the efficacy of our heavy guns. A board of officers have reported that 1,915 pieces of the calibre of 13, 15 and 20 inches for smooth-bores, and 10 and 12 inches for rifles, were required for the permanent fortifications. None of these guns have yet been provided, and there are no existing orders or contracts for heavy cannon. This stoppage of the procurement of heavy cannon, says General Grant, has been mainly occasioned through "persistent efforts for some time past by ignorant or designing persons to destroy public confidence in the heavy guns which have been provided by the Ordnance Department for the army and navy," but thorough experiments have established the fact that our heavy cast-iron cannon are the cheapest and most effective guns possessed by any nation. Although our rifled guns have been tested with favorable results, it is not deemed advisable now to proceed with the manufacture of this arm until further experiments have been made.

IMPORTANT TO MERCHANTS.—President Juarez has issued the following decree in reference to the importation of flour into Mexico:

For the importation of foreign flour and in favor of Mexican production, a protective duty is established as follows:

ARTICLE I. Whenever the price of flour is in the United States from $6 to $8 per barrel, or say three to four cents per pound, a duty of four cents per pound, or $4 per quintal (cental), will be imposed.

ART. II. Whenever the price is from $8 to $10 per barrel, or say from four to five cents per pound, a duty of three cents, or $3 per quintal, will be imposed.

ART. III. Whenever the price is from $10 or more per barrel, or say five cents or more per pound, two cents per pound, or $2 per quintal, will be imposed.

The above stipulated duty to be paid by the importer, without prejudice to laws now in force relative thereto.

ANCIENT BUILDINGS.—The Government in India has appointed a Commission to examine and report on the historical buildings in the several provinces of India, some of which have an antiquity of nearly 3,000 years, with a view to their conservation. Photographs, plans and measurements, it is said, are to be systematically taken and published.

TO THE UNION VOTERS OF OREGON.

The cold weather preventing travel by the ordinary conveyances of the country, made it impossible for many members of the State Central Committee to reach Portland at the time named by the Chairman. There were present, however, J. N. Dolph, H. V. V. Johnson, T. R. Cornelius, J. W. Whaley, proxy for D. N. Luce, W. C. Johnson, J. N. Dolph, proxy for John Kelsay and W. W. Bristow and A. C. Gibbs, proxy for P. C. Parker, representing the counties of Multnomah, Yamhill, Washington, Grant, Clackamas, Benton, Lane and Douglas.

Considering the brief time which now intervenes between the present and the State and Presidential elections, the members of the Committee present, did not think it expedient to delay the call for a State Convention, and the steps necessary for a thorough organization. It was therefore unanimously agreed to issue a call for a State Convention, to meet on the 24th of March, 1868. This has been done and the apportionment fixed. Some of the business which might have been done by the Committee, had it been full, was postponed to an adjourned meeting to be called by the Chairman on 13th of February, 1868; the few present not desiring to take more responsibility than they deemed absolutely necessary.

The Committee have, however, a few recommendations to make:

1st. That precinct meetings be held on the 29th of February, 1868. At these meetings of the people, it is desired that precinct organizations be effected and Union Clubs formed where they have not already been, with officers and Committees who can be relied upon, to circulate documents and communicate with the County Committees. We need to bring the truth to bear upon the heads and hearts of our opponents and convince them that they are wrong.

2d. We recommend that the County Committees of the several counties call County Conventions, to wit: on Saturday the 7th day of March, A. D. 1868, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention. Of course the County Committees will apportion the number of delegates to be sent by each precinct to the County Conventions. The Committee earnestly hope that nominations for county officers will not be made at the same time that delegates are chosen to the State Convention. Such practice has worked badly in the past, and can only bring evil in the future.

3d. We urge upon you all the duty of sustaining and circulating Union newspapers and documents now, before the heat of the canvass shall prevent men from judging calmly of the justness and permanence of the principles and policy which we advocate. Give the sons of your Democratic neighbors a good newspaper or speech, which shall show the infamous record of the leaders of the Democratic party during the late civil rebellion, and these young men will not be found identify themselves with such a party than they would sympathize with the tories who opposed the glorious Revolution which made us a nation in 1776.

Of course these are only recommendations. If there are local reasons for fixing the time of meetings for the precinct and county meetings in any county, the County Committee will act as they in their wisdom shall deem best. But, we do urge vigilance and energy. The country was worth fighting for and dying for. It is still worth fighting for and dying for. It is still worth while for the rebellion or in sympathy with it. Let us not be found wanting until the work is completed, and the nation's honor and fame fully vindicated, and its permanence secured.

By order of the Union State Central Committee. J. N. DOLPH, Ch'n.

South America.

The New York Tribune of December 2d has the following:

Two of the largest Republics of South America, Colombia and Peru, continue to be a prey to civil war. In Southern Peru the revolutionists still hold out against President Prado, and the friends of the insurrection were expecting that a large portion of the Northern States would likewise join it. In the United States of Colombia several States threaten to secede from the Confederation. Both these movements are to be regretted. Though, a few years ago, the President of Peru, Prado, gave himself, as chief of an insurrection, the bad example of disobedience to the law, he is now the constitutional President of the Republic, and the revolutionists war, not only against him, but against the new Constitution which has been adopted by the Constituent Convention. The whole revolutionary movement is a direct appeal against the principle of popular sovereignty. In some of the Colombian States there appear to be some weighty reasons for dissatisfaction with the Federal Government, but the secession movement which has been planned and partly begun to be executed, can be of no benefit to the people who are prevailed upon to take part in it. The success of this secession movement in any particular State can but encourage those who put local and particular over general and national interests. South in Peru and Colombia, the insurrection seems chiefly to be supported by the conservative or anti-liberal party.

Amid the continuance of the civil war there are, however not wanting signs of progress and of a better future. Among these we count the important circular issued by the Peruvian Minister of Foreign Affairs. It proposes the organization of the South American States allied against Spain into a Federal Union, with an annual meeting of Plenipotentiaries. If the idea is accepted by the Governments of Chile, Bolivia, and Ecuador, Latin America will have a powerful Republic, better calculated to foster the spirit of nationality and of respect for the law. The new confederation, if successful, would soon prove the nucleus of a general Confederation embracing all, or most of the Republics of Latin America, an event to which many of the best patriots and wisest statesmen in all parts of Latin America have long been looking forward. The circular is, without doubt, one of the most important events in the recent history of Latin America, and we shall watch its results with the deepest sympathy.

BYRON—HIS CURLS AND HIS SHOOTING.—When Byron was at Cambridge, he was introduced to Scrope Davis, by their mutual friend, Matthews, who was afterwards drowned in the river Cam. After Matthews' death, Davis became Byron's particular friend, and was admitted to his rooms at all hours. Upon one occasion he found the poet in bed with his hair en papillotes, upon which Scrope cried: "Ha, ha! Byron, I have at last caught you acting the part of the sleeping Beauty." Byron, in a rage, exclaimed: "No, Scrope, the part of a d—d fool, you should have said." "Well, then, anything you please; but you have succeeded admirably in deceiving your friends, for it was my conviction that your hair curled naturally." "Yes, naturally, every night," returned the poet: "but do not, my dear Scrope, let the cat out of the bag, for I am as vain of my curls as a girl of sixteen." When in London, Byron used to go to Manton's shooting gallery, in Davis street, to try his hand, as he said, at a wafer. Waddeburn Webster was present when the poet, intensely delighted with his own skill, boasted to Joe Manton that he considered himself the best shot in London. "No, my lord," replied Manton, "not the best, but your shooting to-day

MEETING OF THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—The proceedings of the Union State Central Committee, together with the Address to the Union Voters of Oregon will be found on the first page

"Radical Consistency"—Democratic Falsehood

The first part of this heading forms the caption of an article which appears in the Herald, and which is designed to show that the "Radicals," so-called, have departed from the principles they held in the elections of 1865, when they declared their confidence in Johnson the last part describes the character of the article itself An attempt is made to show that the recent partial defeats of the Republican party are due to its opposition to the policy of the acting President Extracts are quoted from resolutions adopted by Union Conventions in 1865, in which Johnson is commended, and the statement is then made that the success of the party in the elections of that year was due to its support of Johnson's Administration. 'Upon platforms pledging the party to the support of the President,' says this veracious chronicler of political events, the Republican party carried New York, New Jersey, Ohio, and other States by large majorities "Upon platforms pledging the party to the support of Congress & the President," that party, in 1867, was defeated in several States which it had carried in 1865 It will be observed that the elections of 1866 are left entirely out of the account. In those elections Johnson's policy was directly before the people. The Republican party in every State was pledged to the support of Congress against the President, and the issue was made entirely upon this point. And the party gained the greatest success in that campaign which it has ever achieved Now utterly dishonest, then, it is to say that the party was faithful when it supported Johnson, and was defeated when it was pledged against him

It is true that the Unionists commended Johnson in their platforms in 1865 But that was before his apostasy, and while he was still declaring that treason should be made odious The New Jersey Convention of that year declared that "Andrew Johnson, by his bold denunciation of traitors at the outbreak of the rebellion and by his devotion to the Union during its severest trials," had secured the confidence of the Union party, a confidence which shows just what grounds the party originally trusted him on. It supported him because it believed him faithful to the principles which he had announced on so many occasions, both before and after his election. His treachery had not then been developed, and the party still trusting him, did not hesitate to give expression to its confidence in his loyalty and fidelity When it became known that he had thrown himself into the arms of the rebels and Democrats, when the full extent of his treachery had been revealed, the party did not hesitate to declare against him, and the next year he and his supporters were hurled by the most decisive majorities ever known in our country from power.

If the Unionists owed their success in 1865 to the principles of Johnson, it becomes important to enquire what the Democrats were doing at that time. Did their political opponents, they give any assurance of his contemptible treachery. They could not. If it him. They had no platform, for the elections of that year; they could not cordially support Johnson [illegible] But when he came fairly over to their side, gave him welcome, and professed to be in favor of his "policy." This fact [illegible] will serve to prove Johnson's infamy to the Union party.

The fact is that the Unionists have [illegible] they have pledged to the support of [illegible] and denounced when they have [illegible] him, [illegible] enough of [illegible] by certain Democratic editors, but no more entering the contest regard for votes. [illegible] for his [illegible], would assert [illegible] and denounce [illegible] to Principle [illegible] has not been [illegible] since the defeat and [illegible] of the Whig party that the lesson of [illegible] to be forgotten. In the last National [illegible] that party was [illegible], literally [illegible] by the force of its friends. There were [illegible] in that campaign who [illegible] were [illegible] the only way to [illegible] was by [illegible] of principle. The plot [illegible] was nothing more than that of the [illegible] party and [illegible] being given [illegible] with a hat nothing to contend [illegible] and [illegible] That a crushing [illegible] was the result, was no matter [illegible] The party had thrown [illegible] its integrity for usefulness, and it deserved to die.

[illegible] of the Union Republican [illegible] upholding the national [illegible] of [illegible] the Rebellion [illegible] of equal rights [illegible] the laws for all classes of [illegible] has still [illegible] that duty, the days of its [illegible] are numbered This principle is one [illegible] is certain to triumph if one champion [illegible], it will find another. There need be no fear that the great party upon which this party [illegible] duty is deserted will give up its principles [illegible] its controlling idea, viz: it must be [illegible] that such a course would be certain defeat [illegible] There are who pretend to [illegible] but they do not believe [illegible] The life of the Union Republican party is small. It has principles and convictions A progressive party must be true to its ideas, or it is irretrievably lost.

The antagonism between different races disappears when equal laws Though much is said of the antagonism between different races of men [illegible] of religion, difference of language, difference of rank and privilege, are more fruitful sources of antagonism and war than difference of race. Under just and equal laws in the United States, Jews, Protestants and Catholics, Englishmen, Irishmen and other people who else where have been continually at war, dwell and mingle harmoniously together. The uniform lesson of history is that unjust and partial laws engender and increase antagonism, while justice and equality of rights are the sure foundation of peace and friendship Therefore the only way in which the "war of races" that is talked of so glibly, can occur in this country, is by maintaining an inequality of rights before the law Equality in this particular will certainly lead to peace, inequality is war in itself,—a perpetual contention, which cannot be compromised or put down

We learn by letter that the Silverton Union Club perfected its organization on the evening of the 11th inst. J C Davenport was elected President, W L Macken, Vice President, H D Mount, Secretary, and D Wolford, Treasurer There are two Union Clubs in the Silverton precinct, one in the Waldo Hills, and one at Silverton

MURDER OF PRISONERS OF WAR.—The organs of the Confederate Democracy are still making an effort to cover up the cruelties to national soldiers in Southern prison pens by charging that the officers of the United States Government prevented their exchange Only a short time ago we noticed an article of this kind in an Oregon paper Rebel officers who know all about the deliberate murder of our soldiers by crowding them into horrible pens, where they fell by tens of thousands under exposure, pestilence and starvation have the insolence to come forward and make their charges against national officers for preventing exchanges, as if this were an excuse for their murdering prisoners, and the Confederate organs in the North re-echo these charges continually, in the interest of their rebel friends Even if their statements were true, it would not furnish the slightest palliation for the Confederate prison atrocities. Such a defense is simply the setting up of the savage doctrine that, inasmuch as the National Government left the prisoners in their hands, they had a right to torture and murder them

BIENNIAL SESSIONS.—A California paper is of opinion that other States would do well to follow the example of California in having biennial, instead of annual, sessions of their Legislatures In assuming that California is the first State to set this excellent example the journal in question manifests the usual charming disposition to claim as much as possible for the "Empire State" of the Pacific It happens that Oregon was far ahead of California in the matter referred to The California Legislature assembled annually until a few years ago, when the Constitution was amended so as to provide for biennial sessions When the change was proposed, the example of Oregon was referred to by the friends of the measure, and it might almost be said that the system which the California journal is so much in love with, was copied from us, though in a very few States biennial sessions were the rule before the Constitution of Oregon was formed. California is a very considerable State, but there have been many things which did not get their start there

A Short Sermon.

Children who read my lay,
To a few it I have to say
Each day, and every day,
Do what is right!
Right things, in great and small;
Then, though the sky should fall,
Sun, moon, and stars, and all,
You shall have light!

This further I would say.
Be you tempted as you may,
Each day, and every day,
Speak what is true
True things in great and small,
Then, though the sky should fall,
Sun, moon, and stars, and all,
Heaven would show through!

Figs, as you see and know,
Do not out of thistles grow;
And though the blossoms blow
White on the tree,
Grapes never, never yet
On the limbs of thorn were set;
So, if you a good world get,
Good you must be!

Life's journey through and through,
Speaking what is just and true;
Doing what is right to do
Unto one and all,
When you work and when you play,
Each day, and every day,
Then peace shall gild your way,
Though the sky should fall.

Judaism and its History.

Such is the title of a volume from the pen of Dr. Abraham Geiger, Rabbi of the Israelitish Congregation at Frankfort-on-the-Maine. In one of his chapters he pays his respects at some length on Renan and Strauss, and indulges in caustic remarks at the expense of those eminent expounders of the life and character of the Christian Messiah. As the criticism of an Israelite on those who would bring Jesus down to the level of a mere human hero, what he has to say on the subject will be read with interest:

In the work of Renan, Jesus appears, in fact, as a visionary hypercritic, greatly vacillating; now, as a pronounced national Jew, and then again as cosmopolite; now as initiated into Essenism by John the Baptist, and then as rising above all outward forms; now as conquering all obstacles by the most amiable meekness, and then as getting angry at his own failures and wandering of himself, and withal, devoid of all endeavors for a higher spiritual culture, and neglecting all attempt to aspire to it; and after having been finally introduced into very suspicious company for deceptive motives, into very low morals which our author defends with oratorial pathos, and even praises, because they belong to the "people," and to a mind filled with an Idea, which must not, therefore, be estimated with our short measure; we arrive at a glorification of [illegible] model of highest religious and moral perfection for all times, an Ideal which has, as yet, not been universally understood and much [illegible], though he should not be adored as a God, yet he must be looked upon as an Ideal of Humanity, as a "demigod." Thus the opening [illegible] with a surprise; but when we have shut the book, calmly weigh its contents in our mind, and readers its poetry into [illegible] then we [illegible] the hero has [illegible] the essence of this [illegible] chemical [illegible]. But the duty [illegible] of the historian pause to be entirely illegiti[illegible]

[illegible] fare better with Strauss. He guards [illegible] all rights of the imagination, he spares us [illegible] that might be caused by a cool explanation of [illegible] he presents Jesus in [illegible] spiritual dignity. Even the [illegible] hand [illegible] as "that individual in whom the [illegible] occasion [illegible] of man's own nature first felt a supreme all-pervading [illegible] present at the conclusion of the work the author [illegible] "Among the improvers of the [illegible] Jesus [illegible] of the [illegible] were wanting to it here, or had continued undeveloped, and the element [illegible] of others which [illegible] into [illegible] which he gave it, a [illegible] by its [illegible] character, did bestow and [illegible] upon it, by its own genius, the most vital [illegible] while the Religious Society which took [illegible] provided for this [illegible] [illegible] meaning." But what are the facts underlying this picture, [illegible] mythical ideas, etc., is not [illegible] positively historical; and a question of which, if they were truly historical, [illegible] his views, and would [illegible] the [illegible] as artificial [illegible] a time immediately following. Thus, [illegible] the variety of Jesus is [illegible] upon real facts, but upon teachings and [illegible] many of which, also, must be regarded [illegible] originating [illegible] he must be [illegible] as genuine [illegible] ought to afford the best testimony for [illegible]

It is also [illegible] that General Banks had [illegible] higher office in the political [illegible] It is not at all improbable that Spanish [illegible] has been informed of this subject, and [illegible] several movements in that [illegible] any revolutionary movements in that [illegible] It is also said that Colfax's position [illegible] which social standing, is one of the [illegible] in this movement, which began while he was [illegible] by the New York [illegible]

PROSPECTUS OF THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURchased the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F. McElroy, propose to issue a Weekly Paper at Olympia, W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Material, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time reserving the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to discuss all matters in their true light, and give credit wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and assist us in getting a good list of Subscribers, Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $5 per annum in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, by which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, practically in his native country, resigned only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the author to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the possessor of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deem that he began and expects to make money by its sale, he must feel by claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

It is without fear to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and is confident in his of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IN IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of NINE, SIXNINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Gatel & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes and case—for over fifteen years.

Mrs. TIMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; O. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

DR BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Disease, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering untold misery consequence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they sends suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—so that they are cured for and cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who has made private [illegible] one his especial study for years, and who is now in [illegible] to cure the most inveterate cases with [illegible] celerity or any injurious drugs. It is important for those who are afflicted, or to those who are desirous in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the afflicted by using the names of eminent physicians and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an alarming extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless counteracted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, unlike like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of virility, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, fatuous tongue, bad breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of affecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Affections, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Here no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for package of medicines, may rely upon his assurance of confidential [illegible] keep with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, sympoms, length of time they have been continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 229.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 229 ON THE LETTER.
